ad to address the convention. The motion prevailed and a committee appointed who waited upon the successful candidate and introduced him to the convention.

Mr. Johnson thanked the convention —thanked the people of the district and thanked his opponent in the race for the compliment tendered him. His speech was a hasty review of the canvass. He said that he had been defeated, what he had learned in that canvass many of the advantages that Southeast Missouri presented to all classes, was not before known to him, and so indelibly impressed upon his memory as it had been by traveling through the counties comprising this district, that he was repaid for the trouble and expense that he had been to. Before the November election he said he hoped to visit every county in the district and gain points that would enable him to more intelligently represent the district. His address pleased all who listened to it. It had a ring to it that was in harmony with the platform of the party that nominated, and which will elect him.

After the address a resolution endorsing

United States Senator Cockrell's course, and asking that Mr. Johnson exercise his influence to return him to his present position was almost unanimously adopted.

The convention adjourned sine die after electing the following named gentlemen as a senatorial committee for the ensuing four years:

Butler—R. L. Metcalfe,

Carter—J. W. McDonald,

Iron—J. B. Walker,

Madison—Wm. Newburg,

Oregon—J. P. Woodside,

Reynolds—Josiah Sutton,

Ripley—A. J. Gregory,

Wayne—A. B. Martindale.

—Popular Bluff Citizen.

Questions for Candidates.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of St. Louis is carrying its fight against railroad discrimination into the next General Assembly by sending broadcast over the State a circular propounding to candidates for the Legislature certain interrogatories which, if made an issue by the people, should lead to a substantial improvement in our railroad laws, or rather in the means of enforcing obedience to the plain and salutatory provisions of our fundamental law.

As these questions relate only to the better enforcement of positive mandates and guarantees of the State Constitution which have been notoriously disregarded by members of the Legislature, as well as by the railroads, the queri-als resolve themselves at last into the very important question whether railroad corporations shall continue to govern Missouri in defiance of her fundamental law and in open warfare against the commercial rights and interests of her people. A question of such moment should be accorded a place far in front of ordinary politics, and no voter should let any mere party interest interfere with its prompt and proper settlement.

But we warn the Democratic leaders that it will force itself into politics if they continue to lag so dangerously far in the rear of public opinion in this matter. It was precisely thus that the Republican leaders lost their healthy majority in Pennsylvania when Paterson was elected. The tremendous fight against Gen. Gordon's nomination by the Georgia Democrats is another warning, of which the end is not yet.

Above all living men he is the idolized hero of Georgia's people, and but for one thing he would have been nominated by acclamation and elected without opposition. That one thing was the accession of the Joe Brown railroad clique to power through Gordon's resignation some years ago. Solely on account of that remote and indirect connection with the success of a corporation influence against which Georgia Democrats are in revolt was he opposed, and no man less innocent or less above suspicion of being a tool of that influence could have been set up against a revolt gaining so rapidly in strength and tenacity. The fight is not over, and what will be left of Democratic ascendancy in Georgia when it is fought out remains to be seen.
